Privacy Pleasure

Privacy (from Latin: privatus "separated from the rest") is the ability of an individual or group to seclude themselves selectively. When something is private to a person, it usually means there is something to them inherently special.

Pleasurable experiences are associated with social experiences and social drives, such as the experiences of accomplishment, recognition, and service.

HCDS Screens amalgamate both principles. Cut-through screens define spaces of open plan environments without disconnection, routed screens provide the isolated comfort or structural stability where required, and the blending both open a world of possibility.

Uncovering solutions, HCDS created the customised booth seat-wall partition, restaurant service station and moveable room dividing planter boxes combining the technics.

Outdoor Opulence

Backyards, barbecues, beach and bush, Australians are known around the world as lovers of the great outdoors.

Since the early 1990s backyards have been shrinking due to new houses covering a bigger proportion of the lot and sub-divided blocks with townhouses and apartment complexes and a reduction in average lot sizes in metropolitan areas, mainly as a result of decreasing supply and rising land cost.

The top concerns about the loss of backyards are the loss of safe outdoor play spaces for children, loss of Australian lifestyle and loss of privacy.

HCDS recognises important role outdoor areas play in health and wellbeing of individuals. Designer screens enhance the already brilliant natural surroundings without obstruction. Whether extending boundaries, adding an attractive façade and luminance to standard fencing, creating a backdrop for a great Australian past time or a mobile option for balcony, as well as protection from the harsh sun and privacy for our close proximity living HCDS exhibit a few of the many designer screen outdoor versatilityes.

Clubbing Confidence

Each suburb has a Returned Servicemen's League (RSL) club and a "sporting" club. The only sporting done in the "sporting" clubs is gaming (pokies are popular) All persons entering these buildings must be members or be sponsored by a member. Bowls Clubs are also found in each community and offer good fun. The bowlers look smart in their whites and are seen rain or shine out on the greens.

Our experience shows clubs have special screen requirements. Clubs are social communities where proper planning is paramount to its development. The design communicates directly with the organisation for functioning of the environment. Clubs display the illusion of separation, hierarchy, privacy and elegance in a seemingly secluded space. Screens are used to direct traffic, as a partition wall and structural booth seating for a dining area. Mobile screens define multiple lounge areas adhering to heritage standard. A custom lace pattern screen adorns the butane fireplace. Gaming screens in a pattern reflected in the carpet flooring comfort the punters play. Settle nuances supplied by HCDS screens.

Living Lavish

It has been argued that "The strongest sense of home commonly coincides geographically with a dwelling. Since humans are generally creatures of habit, the state of a person's home has been known to physiologically influence their behaviour and emotions.

Open floor plans empower the individual to take control and define their space. Choices are numerous for home builds and renovations from entrances to sacred gardens. Portable screens offer temporary solutions for those on the move as well as permanence. Screens welcome, provide retreat, craft functional art and enhance neighbour relations. As manufacturer, HCDS continuously seek to make available product to enrich your surroundings.

Hip-Hospitality

Being a good host no longer applies only to accommodation. Experiences define our responsive opinions concerning atmospheres. HCDS screens have the ability to conjure ideas of exotic places through the patterns and fashion the company identity. Decorative screen dressings are set behind booth seating and bar area as wall art. Shelving incorporated into a room partition screen and topped with a Carrera marble mask the service area. Castor wheeled planter boxes move independently to determine the room size.

As with any good host, design screens produce a feel of acceptance and importance.

Significant Signage

The ancient Egyptians and Romans were known to use signs. In ancient Rome, signboards were usually made from stone or terracotta, and Greeks are known to have used signs also. Many Roman examples are preserved, among them the widely-recognized bush to indicate a tavern.

Not much has changed, but HCDS stands proud increasing the materials available to continue sign use.

Aesthetically Appealing

This unique designed screen is abounding with contemporary and timeless design. HCDS worked with sculptor Roger Assi to manufacture a custom made screen for one of Sydney's top high end property investment companies. The subtle design incorporates the company initials and was placed in a shape inspired by Aboriginal patterns. The limits of the laser cutter were tested to develop the smallest laser cut k letter. The screen was placed in a double glazed toughened glass and vacuum sealed for easy maintenance and astounding light penetration and reflections. The results exceeded the clients' expectations and the finished result is a beautifully eternal art piece.

Pattern Paradise

A visually stimulating work environment will create enthusiastic workers. HCDS manufactured, supplied and installed several screens into one of Sydney's top accounting firms. It was vitally important that the screens will fit into the existing office space. The screens were custom made to divide the office into zones of reading areas, locker areas, and office areas. The screens are curved laser cut steel and fixed with a specially designed panel ceiling fixing system. The black powder coat finish complements and contrasts the modern office interior to create an opulent look.
